FIRES BULLET INTO HIS BRAIN

OFFICIAL OF KEY ROUTE IS FOUND SHORT IN ACCOUNTS

OAKLAND, Dec. 30.—S. H. Pickard, manager of the research and efficiency department of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railway and National Guard officer, put a bullet through his brain this afternoon shortly after dictating a business letter to his stenographer.

W. K. Alberger, general manager of the corporation, stated that following the finding of irregularities in Pickard's accounts some days ago, he had that morning told him that they would not prosecute, but that his resignation was desired.

For the past month on Pickard's desk lay a card bearing the following inscription: "The only honorable way for a man to commit suicide is to work himself to death."

This note led Alberger to order the investigation that disclosed discrepancies in Pickard's accounts.

At three o'clock in the afternoon Pickard finished dictating a business letter to Miss Susie Jones, his stenographer. She left his office. Two minutes later a shot was heard by W. K. Allen, Pickard's clerk, who rushed into the office of his chief, only to find him lying across his desk. Pickard had shot himself through the right temple.

The statement issued by Alberger follows:

Some days ago irregularities in Pickard's accounts were discovered. This morning I explained to him that there was no thought of prosecuting him, but that, of course, it would be necessary to insist upon his resignation at once. His suicide clearly was the act of a person not in his right mind.

As a special accountant in the auditing department Pickard was employed by the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway Company in October of 1911. He was steadily advanced until he became manager of the research and efficiency department.

Pickard was 40 years of age and is survived by his wife and a widowed sister, who arrived at the family home, 249 Santa Rosa avenue, Oakland, several days ago from the East.

A prominent member of a number of Oakland business luncheon clubs, Pickard was also a member of the San Jacob Astor Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. He earned a splendid record for service in the Spanish-American War and was recently appointed captain of the service company in the 159th Infantry, National Guard of California, under Colonel David P. Barrows.

It is the belief of the officers that her name is Mrs. Cora Godfredsen, of 599 Seventh street, Oakland, as a letter was found in her hand bag, addressed in that manner. A year ago there was a couple by the name of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Godfredsen who resided at 31 Piedmonte place at the Point, but later they moved away.

Police Officer George Bengley, in making his rounds last evening shortly 12 o'clock, found a woman lying on the sidewalk at Sixth and Macdonald, apparently having fainted.

At her side was a suit case, a bundle of clothes and a handbag, indicating that she had just arrived in town, and was waiting to make a transfer on to street cars or was about to depart.

An ambulance was summoned and she was removed to the hospital and the services of Dr. U. S. Abbott secured. It is the opinion of the physician that the woman's condition is due to exhaustion.

In her hand bag was but a very small amount of money and some cheese and crackers, indicating that the woman had not been eating very much.

The woman is very attractive in appearance, is about 5 feet 8 inches in height, weighs about 150 pounds, and is about 26 years of age.

THIRD ATTEMPT AT MATRIMONY IS A FAILURE SAYS J. MARTIN

The third attempt at matrimony of John W. (Jack) Martin of this city has failed after little over one month of married life, according to a suit for divorce, which was filed in the Superior court yesterday by Martin against his wife, Irene M. Martin, of 213 Second street.

They were married on the 10th of November. Mrs. Martin came west from Denver for the wedding, having been acquainted with Martin for over thirty years.

The complaint recites that the plaintiff, being a man of advancing years and retired, desired a home and wrote to the present Mrs. Martin to come west and marry him. She arrived on the 9th of November with her 17-year-old son and the couple were married the following day.

From the date of the marriage, Martin alleges, his life has been unhappy and he has been the victim of a continual "barrage of abuse."

Shortly after the marriage, the plaintiff avers, the defendant asked for a $65 suit and a $75 overcoat, which was beyond his means. He also avers that the defendant claimed her son was an artist and could not soil his hands doing any work around the house or chop kindling, but must be sent to a musical school in Berkeley and also provided with spending money to have in his pocket at all times.

The complaint further recites that the defendant also demanded that the plaintiff always leave his purse in the house within easy access of the defendant.

The plaintiff further alleges that when he invited a couple to his home for Thanksgiving dinner the defendant became angered and declared that the plaintiff should take his bride and son out to dinner on their first Thanksgiving and that it was not proper for a bride to cook Thanksgiving dinner.

The plaintiff further alleges that the defendant painted many pictures of the home provided by her former husband and that owing to the alleged associates of the plaintiff, the complaint continues, the defendant had not been able to associate with the people she chose.

Shortly before the separation occurred on the 19th of December, the complaint continues, the defendant demanded apple butter for her son. The plaintiff declared that he was lucky to have any kind of butter under the circumstances, the complaint recites, and thereupon it is set forth, the defendant threw the meat which had been provided for the evening meal on the floor.

W. S. Roberson is attorney for the plaintiff.

SATURDAY SUMMARY

World affairs for the week past have been making progress, in that Ireland has decided to accept the treaty offered by England and its parliament will probably so announce in a few days. An ultimatum was delivered to them by Lloyd George, to the effect that Great Britain had gone the limit and nothing further in the way of concessions could be made. Thus it was either accept the pact or continue warfare indefinitely, of which the Irish people are getting heartily tired. It is well. The treaty of freedom gives Ireland all the self-control and privileges which Canada enjoys, and Ireland has yet to show the world that it is capable of self-government even to that extent. They will probably be scrapping among themselves over it for some time to come, but it will all come out right in the end.

The arms conference at Washington has also made progress, and has already accomplished a wonderful good to a suffering and war-weary world. At present, it is deadlocked over the action of France in demanding unlimited submarines and cruisers, and what will be the outcome of that is yet unknown. France is acting in a manner that deserves severe rebuke from her allies, and that she will get it is sure. We do not blame France for being suspicious of Germany and Russia, but it has gone beyond the bounds of reason in that suspicion. Germany is in no condition to wage a war against a jackrabbit, and won't be for many years to come, and neither can Russia. Russia can't fight, anyway, and never could. It let even little Japan whip them. They put up quite a scrap for a little while and then kill their fool selves running. What the United States and England will have to say to France for blocking the efforts of the conference is yet unknown, but it is not unlikely that Secretary Hughes will strongly intimate to Frenchy that if he is going to continue war preparations unduly he can't do it on our money, and will have to pony up that billion dollars borrowed from us before going any further in building cruisers and submarines. England will also likely apply economic pressure. It is not right that any one power should block the progress of the world in attaining a lasting peace, and it is not likely that it will be allowed to, even if Premier Briand did kiss our Secretary Hughes on both cheeks.

The proposition to combine the various Richmond boost bodies into one organization—a proposition of merit, and we are glad to see it brought about. This will give our city an organization that can and will accomplish many needed things which its forces all broken up into various kinds of units never could have accomplished. With all due respect to existing organizations, they are each too small and too weak to accomplish big things, and big things must be accomplished for Richmond from now on. This is no longer a town or village; it is a city, and is going to be a whopping big city, and we must quit thinking and acting in terms of village and get busy acting and doing as behooves big cities to act and do.

The Industrial Commission has brought factories here and has put Richmond on the map far and wide, and deserves much credit, but its membership is confined to a few real estate dealers and it is thus handicapped. The Chamber of Commerce has also accomplished quite a bit of good work, and has worked hard as best it could under its circumstances, but it too, has been handicapped by a small membership and lack of interest upon the part of the general public. The Merchants' Association has been a benefit to the city and has shown a most commendable spirit of public enterprise under all circumstances, but it had a string tied to it of commercialism and, naturally enough, its activities revolved around the business of buying and selling merchandise, the extension of credits, and all that sort of thing. Occasionally it would branch out into a larger sphere, but it was organized as a merchants' association and that was what it was bound to be in the most part. Now, take all three of those organizations and throw them into one, and their power is going to be limited only by the sky. They can do pretty nearly anything they want to do. They can and will be a great power for good, and under such an arrangement we can all expect something of real moment and importance to be accomplished during 1922.

The very first thing this new combined organization ought to do is to broaden its view just the same as it has broadened its size and ability to accomplish. It should quit looking down to St. George, over to the Point and out to San Pablo, and get a pair of field glasses that will take in everything at one glance from Richmond to Pinole on the north and clear down to Hayward on the south and east. Why? Because right in that radius is going to build up, and is already building up, a great, solid city of over a million inhabitants. A dozen towns are growing into one so fast right now that it is hard to tell where one begins and the other leaves off. One vast East Bay city is now fast becoming the result.

The first thing that this great city of a million or more people needs, and needs right now, is fast transportation. By getting on an S. P. train you can land in San Francisco right now within five minutes of the time it takes to go to Oakland, and if you have business at Elmhurst, San Leandro or Hayward, it is going to take you two long hours to get there. We went down just beyond San Leandro a few days ago to take lunch with Henry Cutting at his Daisy Farm, and nearly starved to death before we got there. We need and must have fast electric trains, such as the Southern Pacific and Key Route run, that will circle all this territory and do it quick. Nothing in this world builds up communities as fast as quick transportation.

Richmond's new civic organization can bring all that about by taking it up with the other cities and towns and then all acting in conjunction and harmony. While the world conference is doing things at Washington an East Bay conference should get busy and do things to keep this great region from everlastingly being nothing much else but a bedroom for San Francisco.

The high wind of a week ago did a lot of damage to the roofs of Richmond buildings, which it will cost thousands to repair. This should teach our citizens that it does not pay to put something on their buildings as roofs just because it is cheap, for as soon as a high wind streams through the Golden Gate it gets under the cheap roofs and tears them off, letting in the rain and ruining the household and other goods. Nothing that is cheap is good. A cheap man is no good, and neither is a cheap roof. The next roof you have occasion to put on, drive a nail in it every two inches in every direction.

A large bunch of business men of San Francisco and Oakland returned yesterday from a trip through the Orient, and they are very enthusiastic over the immense trade and business there which this country can get by simply going after it. As soon as their report gets out there will be no doubt about business firms going after that trade, and this will mean the doubling of the ships plying between here and the Oriental countries. This should mean an enlarged business for Richmond's new harbor and municipal warehouses, for much of the goods coming in from those countries are for shipment by rail to the eastern part of this country, and to change from ship to rail on the east side of the bay is a big saving to all parties concerned. The quicker we get our harbor completed and more warehouses built the better, for a big business awaits us. Before the close of 1922 the ships of the Procter & Gamble company will be unloading copra and other Oriental products at the wharves and factory they are to build in the spring, which also spells more employment for more men in Richmond.

We have all had a bounteous Christmas, spread thick with gifts, feasts and loving kindness, and now let us all make some good resolutions tomorrow, which is the first of the new year, to the effect that we will put our shoulders to the municipal wheel and boost our home town ahead with all our might and main. We must build more factories to create more payrolls. We must plant more trees, lawns and flowers, and make Richmond not only boom but bloom. We can do all that quite easily if we just make up our minds that we will, and tomorrow will be a grand time to do that very thing.

FEELING THE NATION'S PULSE IS COL. WM. BOYCE THOMPSON'S JOB

Never since governments were instituted among men has any national executive been so close to the hearts and minds of the people as President Harding and his advisers have been during the conference on the Limitation of Armament. What the American people are thinking of the conference and its actions is daily before the American delegates and the President. Never before in history has any government undertaken to interpret so promptly and thorough the public opinion of a nation. Never before has any government had its finger so systematically on the "pulse of the nation."

From the very beginning of the armament conference, President Harding was convinced that its great possibilities for world advancement lay in making it quickly and positively responsible to public opinion. And the President was determined to make it responsible. As a result an elaborate system of feeling out the sentiment of the country has been instituted and the views and feelings of the people carefully tabulated and interpreted are placed before the American delegates daily for their guidance.

In the past many men have striven to guide public opinion. Millions have been spent for "propaganda" to "educate" peoples to support government policies. Germany was a past master at this.

But never before has so broad and effective an effort been made to ascertain clearly and positively the untrammeled views of a people as reflected in their daily newspapers. The delegates of the conference find before them at the same hour every day the editorial expressions of newspapers from Portland, Maine, to Los Angeles, and from Miami, Florida, to Seattle, and the finger of government which is kept hourly on the pulse of the nation is the Committee on General Information of the Advisory Committee to the conference, headed by Colonel William Boyce Thompson. Colonel Thompson has for years been recognized as an accurate and thorough interpreter of public opinion. He is a director of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, and during the war was chairman of the American Red Cross Mission to Russia. He was a great admirer of the late Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and is president of the Roosevelt Memorial Association.

When President Harding's desire to keep the armament delegates in constant touch with nation-wide public opinion was explained to Colonel Thompson he proceeded to devise a system that would meet the need. He not only arranged to have available at once all of the daily newspapers within reach of the capital, but he arranged to have the distant newspapers telegraph daily the gist of their news-despatches and editorial comment on the proceedings of the conference. All of this material is carefully tabulated and summarized and by 11 o'clock every morning a four or five page typewritten report of the day's news and editorial comment is on the desk of every delegate. The news and editorial summary begins with the views of the newspapers of Washington and spreads out until it covers all sections of the country. Recently, under the direction of Colonel Thompson, the committee prepared an analysis of the petitions, memorials and resolutions received by the President, the armament conference delegates and other government officials relating to the conference. It set forth the views of 6,635,140 persons.

Grandma Used Sage Tea to Darken Hair

She made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to bring back color, gloss and youthfulness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store, all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another comes beautifully dark, glossy, soft application or two your hair becomes luxuriant.

S. F. MARKETS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 30.—Aside from a 1 1/2 drop in the price of extra eggs and the taking of butter first off the board, the final session of the San Francisco Wholesale Dairy Produce Exchange was devoid of features.

The exchange closed its books last year on Friday, December 31. At that time the price of extra choice butter was 48 1/2 cents as compared with 40 cents today. Extra eggs were 67 1/2 cents, as compared with 64 1/2 cents, and extra pullets were 1 1/2 cents, as compared with 1 1/4 cents.

Great Production In Film Story at the Macdonald

At the Macdonald theater today, the program that was given last evening, and which was responsible for packed houses, will be repeated. The film "Big Town Round Up" with Tom Mix was a thriller, and you cannot afford to miss it this afternoon or this evening. The comic, "The Night Before" is a scream, and then there is an educational reel "Prisma."

Sunday's program is even more attractive, for it contains that baffling mystery drama, "One Hour Before Dawn" with H. B. Warner as the star; then there will be that thrilling serial, "The Sky Ranger," a comedy "Law and Order, and Matt & Jeff."

"One Hour Before Dawn" is far from being the usual type of murder mystery, for therein hypnotism plays a prominent part. The question of whether or not H. B. Warner, as the hero, committed the murder while under a hypnotic spell, keeps the audience guessing at every turn.

Jesse D. Hampton, in presenting H. B. Warner for the first time as a Pathe star, has selected an excellent supporting cast, headed by beautiful Anna Q. Nilsson and including Augustus Phillips, Thomas Guise, Howard Davies, Frank Leigh, Adele Farrington, Lillian Rich and many others.

A Hint to Santa Claus

By CAROLYN T. RADNOR-LEWIS

Of course you are too old to take away notes to Santa Claus telling him of the gifts that he should slip into your stocking did he want to make this the merriest of Christmas, but just suppose that you could whisper those wishes into the ears of some of your friends, wouldn't you voice the thought that something to wear would be keenly appreciated?

You may remember that Victor Hugo wrote, "The beautiful is as useful as the useful," perhaps more so. Where can you find these two essential factors more ideally combined than in pussy willow underwear?

No one questions the distinctive beauty of pussy willow, the silk that so characteristically fulfills in its silky way the delicacy and softness to the touch that you find pressed in the tiny buds heralding the spring.

While its usefulness is guaranteed for two seasons' wear in the bond, which accompanies every yard of the genuine pussy willow, it has even been known to outwear the lace that adorned it. But it really isn't necessary to add lace to an underdress of this sturdy silk, for it is perhaps the loveliest unadorned. It also takes kindly to a little handwork, hemstitching or the plotting of which most machines can accomplish at home, which you can have done at various shops for a few cents a yard.

Suppose, by way of illustration, you long for pajamas similar to the pair in the picture. And it's not such a mighty wish.

All that you, or the friend who is to create for your Merrie Christmas these pajamas, will require is four yards of the silk. The trimming consists of

There's no denying there's comfort in pajamas, and when a pair is fashioned in pussy willow there is beauty and charm as well, whether you adapt it as a sleeping garment or as a negligee, as Hope Hampton, star of "Star-Dust," can vouch.

the hemstitching in points. Incidentally you can get a pattern for these pajamas free of charge at your shop with the necessary yardage of pussy willow.

You'll also find patterns for the underdresses, which makes it possible to wear the sheerest of frocks or the straightest of one-piece dresses with perfect comfort and assurance.

Bill Hart Draws Croud at Theater

Filled with red blood action and thrills galore, is William S. Hart's Paramount picture production, "The Word Brand," which will be the feature at the Richmond T. & D. Theater today. The scenes of the story are laid in the far west in the days when the pioneer settlers had to back their paths through groves of hostile Indians, and in the action, Mr. Hart plays three roles—that of the pioneer father, a rancher and the governor of the state, the two latter being twin brothers.

Following their escape from the Indians, the two boys are rescued and fate separates them so that they are ignorant of each other's existence. One, known as "Three Word Brand" is a rancher who fights the plot of political schemers to ruin the settlers of Trego Valley for their private gain. The other twin is the brother and when the former sees him in a saloon and recognizes his double, he impersonates the governor for a day and foils the schemes of the politicians. This is not, however, accomplished without dramatic events of the most thrilling type.

Jane Novak is the leading woman and she heads a splendid supporting cast of players. The picture was adapted by Lambert Hillier from a story by Will Reynolds.

DENNY BROOKS

knew little of women. Her career stirred him, filled with a glowing exaltation of loneliness of his life. This new story by Eleanor Meherin, author of Ann and Phil, will thrill and fascinate you. Now appearing in The San Francisco Call. Back chapters supplied free.

Eat Less and Take Salts for Kidneys

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your back hurts or bladder bothers you

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead, your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, cold stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

Contracts Are Signed for Scrapping Vessels

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Contracts covering the "experimental" scrapping of twelve of the shipping board's wooden vessels were signed yesterday by President Powell of the Emergency fleet Corporation and representatives of six eastern firms dealing in waste materials. Upon the results of this venture, it was said, will depend whether the board will decide to scrap the remainder of the wooden fleet, numbering about 200 vessels.

DIPHTHERIA CAUSE OF DEATH OF WM. POLESE

Bank of Italy Is Sending Out Checks to Its Stockholders

The Bank of Italy will dispatch checks today to its legion of stockholders in payment of the semi-annual dividend for the six months ended December 31, 1921, at the rate of 12 per cent per annum.

A. P. Giannini, president of the bank, in commenting on the institution's progress during 1921, draws particular attention to some of the more outstanding activities Giannini said:

"Increase in the bank's authorized capital stock, with its surplus, when fully paid, will give the West an institution that will rank among the largest banks in the United States, with more than $50,000,000 capital and surplus. It is interesting in this connection to note that its stock is distributed among thousands of California citizens, representing every district of the state.

"Of special significance is the adoption of the branch banking system of operation by other California banks and the general interest manifest in the subject by both state and national institutions.

CONN BROTHERS

Why Are You Reading These Ads?

Is it because you have decided to buy a home from someone who has to sell very cheap for cash, or an equity at a great loss, or to buy a centrally located large lot and build one to suit yourself?

Or to buy as an investment one or more lots, located so near the present or future business center that they are sure to soon be needed for business purposes?

If so I have them. Why?

Because during the last 10, 15, and 20 years I have spent most of my time visiting interior towns and labor centers selling Richmond lots. I have always found my sales to lots located either ON or within two or three blocks of Macdonald Ave., west of the S. P. R. R.
Many of these old friends or acquaintances have built stores or houses on them and thereby made them produce an annual income instead of allowing taxes and loss of interest on money invested to increase their original cost.
Others have come to Richmond and built houses and are living in them.
For various reasons some wish to sell.

Since the war came about (1914)
I have discontinued traveling and a few years ago opened a Real Estate Office here in Richmond. I have called on those who live here or in San Francisco and got in correspondence with all those to whom I sold living elsewhere, and am in daily receipt of letters from some of them inquiring me to sell their lots or houses and lots.

Come and see me and I'll show you what I have today. Here are a few, but I have many others:
Five-room well built modern house,
lot 40x119 1/2, plenty of yard room,
planted in flowers and vegetables;
whomall supplying good water;
newly-built garage. Located east of Sixth St. north of Macdonald. Price $3250. Cheap for cash, or some easy.

One, two or three lots together on north line of Hissell, near 12th-75x119 1/2; all or part; very cheap for cash or easy terms.

60x110, located on S. E. corner of 10th and Berwick. Very cheap for cash. This is a bargain. I can sell it very much cheaper than any same size corner can be bought near it.

Two lots, 50x107, north line of Kerlin, near 12th - very cheap, cash or terms.

Three lots, 75x119 1/2, east side of 18th, between Barrett and Nevins.
Very cheap for cash.

75x110, S. W. corner 12th and Clinton at very low price - cash or terms.

75x119 1/2 on 13th St., one-half block north of Macdonald. All or part

STRANGE CASE OF BLOOD POISONING

For about 8 months
I was confined to the house and part of the time to my bed with a strange malady. My face and the upper parts of my body were terribly swollen, my eyes being partially closed. Whenever I went out into the air
my face and hands burned as though they were on fire. My skin itched so that I wanted to scratch and tear at myself continually. Also I had cross eyes from blood poisoning.
I treated with several physicians,
who termed my trouble blood poisoning. None seemed to understand the case, and some were even frank enough to say that death alone could give me relief. Six weeks ago I read of the return from China of the renowned FONG WAN HERB SPECI-ALIST. I immediately sent to him and began to drink the herb tea. I cooked my own herbs at home. Now all the inflammation and swelling are gone. Everything is normal again and I am in perfect condition.

POPULATION OF CALIFORNIA IS INCREASING 9007 MONTHLY

The birth rate of California is up, marriage made a huge jump and the death rate and infant mortality rate are the lowest on record. The number of births estimated in California during the past year has been placed by Ross at 71,500, an increase of more than 4300 over the 67,192 total of 1920. The birth rate is 19.9 births per thousand population—the highest in the history of the state. Last year's record-breaking mark was 19.2 per 1000.

Deaths showed a decrease with an estimated total for this year placed at 46,500, as compared with 47,124 during 1920. This is a decrease of 624 and brings the death rate down to 13 deaths per 100 population, the lowest in the history of the state.

CITY ASSESSOR AND WELBURN TO JOIN IN INCOME TAX WORK

Nelson G. Welburn, income tax consultant and expert, will shortly leave for Vallejo, where he will establish his headquarters, leaving his local office in charge of J. O. Ford, city assessor and tax collector, who will from now on be associated with him.

Last year the rate was 13.5.

Estimated marriages are 47,500, as compared with 36,564 in 1920, an increase of 936 marriages. The rate per 1000 has decreased, however, being 13.2 this year as compared with 13.4 last year. This decrease in rate, despite the great increase in number, is due to the rapid increase in the population of the state, says Ross. This state increases its population 9007 persons a month.

Infant mortality set a low record for the United States.

The infant mortality of the state is estimated at 4700 for the past year, while in 1920 it was 5023, showing a decrease of 323. This brings the rate of child death down to 65.8 per 1000, said by Ross to be the lowest state rate in the country. Last year the infant mortality rate was 75. The lowest mark the rate ever reached previously was 70, in 1919, then a record mark.
